Though my alter-ego Siri is best known for her alleged knowledge of everything, I happily stand firm in the knowledge that this podcast represents a much-needed voice of optimism and positivity.”

Jones, the program's host, and Bennett, the show's announcer, share a belief in the importance of conversation, laughter, listening, and respect for different belief systems. In addition to Jones' established network of newsmakers and celebrities, guests include real people with surreal insight and feature Jones' signature blend of personal and professional development, real-world advice, and whimsical anecdotes.

Described by recurring guest Erin Brockovich as "The best podcast and host ever," the show and its host focus on looking for the BEST in people.

"A guest recently asked me to describe our niche," said Jones. "But that's just it; we're niche-less. Although creativity, curiosity and communication are frequent topics, I need variety. We all benefit when people from different walks of life come together in conversation—and laughter. Laughing is a huge part of the show."

The program is also known for going in unexpected directions. Many guests focus their time on those passions that land outside their primary area of expertise. Jones.Show exists to highlight what's most important to the guests, not vice versa.

The podcast has also featured meaningful discussions with Denise Austin, Laura Benanti, Shaahin Cheyene, Val Chmerkovskiy, Ryan Ferguson, Stedman Graham, Lisa Guerrero, Mark Victor Hansen, Dr. Judy Ho, Michael Kutcher, Norman Lear, Mickey Lolich, Erin Moriarty, Rita Rudner, Suzanne Somers, Leigh Anne Tuohy, Nischelle Turner, Rolonda Watts, Vanna White, Ginger Zee and many more.

"I have remained so passionate about this podcast because Randy has refused to compromise his mission," explained Bennett. "He will not give in to the idea that negativity and hate are acceptable pathways to success. Though my alter-ego Siri is best known for her alleged knowledge of everything, I stand firm in the knowledge that this podcast represents a much-needed voice of
