The demand for powder coatings has increased owing to the growth in technological advancements and increase in demand from applications such as architectural; appliances; automotive; furniture; agriculture, construction & earthmoving equipment (ACE); general industrial; and others. In addition, stringent environmental regulations boost the growth of this market. The market has witnessed steady growth during the past few years, and is expected to grow at a CAGR of 4.2%, in terms of value, during the forecast period.

In the year 2015, the thermoset powder coatings segment dominated the Indonesian market, as these coatings provide superior finish with excellent durability that reduces maintenance cost and prolongs the shelf life of the coated products. Moreover, stringent regulations have led to increased penetration of powder coatings over liquid coatings. Powder coating overspray can be recycled and reused, which ensures optimal utilization of the coating material. Powder coatings in appliances application segment generated the highest revenue in the Malaysian powder coatings market.
