

Blackhawk Floors Offers Wood Floor Inspection Services in Ten Arizona Cities

One of Arizona's best hardwood flooring offers inspections of wood floors.

SCOTTSDALE, ARIZONA, UNITED STATES, March 27, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Representatives with Blackhawk Floors, Inc. announced today that it offers wood floor inspections in ten cities in Arizona including Phoenix.

"This is a tremendous benefit for our customers, so we're very excited about it," said Jason Elquest, owner and spokesperson for Blackhawk Floors.

Elquest, a certified National Wood Floor (NWFA) Certified Wood Floor Inspector, explained that with the wood floor inspection, it is possible to tell if a wood floor was installed with too high moisture content or if the wrong adhesive was used.

"There are many things that can cause a wood floor to fail, and many times it can be more than one reason," said Elquest, who has been trained and tested by the best craftsman in the industry with more than 20 years in the hardwood floor field making him an exceptional wood floor inspector. "Hiring someone with field experience and formal training makes sense."

Customers, according to Elquest, can expect Blackhawk Floors to fully evaluate all the issues that are presented by the commissioning party.

"We will not go on a witch hunt to find issues with a floor, nor will we ever skew our findings towards one party or the other," Elquest stressed, before adding, "The data we gather will determine the fault or lack of. During the inspection, we will try to obtain as much information about the floor as possible."

An additional reason to consider utilizing Blackhawk Floors services is that it has gone green and now uses VOC-free adhesives that are non-toxic and empowers customers with the safest option available.

Elquest went on to point out that with the inspection, Blackhawk Floors, which now has over 800 samples on display in its wood flooring showroom, will determine what the issues are and their cause in a scientific manner.

Elquest explained that his company serves the cities of Phoenix, Scottsdale, Paradise Valley, Goodyear, Chandler, including the entire metro Phoenix area. In addition, Blackhawk Floors serves Prescott, Payson, Flagstaff and Tucson.

The company is recognized by National Wood Flooring Association Certified Installer, National Wood Flooring Association Certified Sand & Finisher, and the National Wood Flooring Association Certified Wood Flooring Inspector.
