We are delighted to announce that our company name has changed from

Shen Wei USA Inc. to SW Technologies Inc. effective today. The updates show the evolution of our company since its founding. While this is a significant change, our core beliefs haven't changed.

A Brief History

Shen Wei has been manufacturing single-use gloves since 1984. During that time, we have not only become the go-to manufacturer for premium products, but we have also become THE experts in the glove industry. We understand the ins and outs of the manufacturing process.

The company's mission is to promote our customer's success and to do this, we must make better products that will allow them to do what they do best

SW is a Technology Company

Through these years and in the quest to provide product solutions, the company has invested heavily in manufacturing innovation and has expanded its Research and Development team.

From being experts in glove manufacturing, our focus has shifted to designing and creating new product technologies based on the applied scientific knowledge that solves the concrete problems of glove users. With numerous product inventions and patented technologies, this has distinguished SW in the industry.

This name change will allow us to present ourselves more clearly for what we are, the most innovative, world-leading glove technology company, and reflect our focus more evidently.

Commitment to Your Success
