About the Global Ethics Summit

The Global Ethics Summit is the premier place for companies and delegates to learn, develop, and share ideas that elevate the field of business ethics and compliance. This year, the Summit will feature 100+ speakers. In 40+ keynotes, "programs in practice" sessions, peer-to-peer roundtables, and workshops, participants will have the opportunity to learn about leading approaches to the complex topics ranging from digital compliance, ESG, and diversity, equity, and inclusion, to investigations and enforcement, among other subjects. There will also be several Solutions Sessions that combine data-enriched insights from Ethisphere and client experiences as they leverage new information and workflows to advance their integrity programs.

The Summit will be hybrid and will assemble hundreds of companies and more than 2,000 participants from around the globe.

The event is hosted by Ethisphere's Business Ethics Leadership Alliance \(BELA\), an organization of 380+ members focused on collaborating on the best ways to advance business integrity.

"Businesses today are being held to new levels of accountability by diverse stakeholders. The issues are complex and ever evolving. The Global Ethics Summit provides leaders with insights into how peers are addressing challenges, and opportunities to connect and forge sustainable solutions," said Kevin McCormack, Executive Vice President, and Executive Director, Business Ethics Leadership Alliance (BELA). "The hybrid experiences this year accommodates a growing community that is eager to engage virtually and in person, while the motivation remains the same, if not reinvigorated. BELA and the extended network of experts is driven by the constant evolution of the profession and value creation for their companies and teams. The Summit offers that unique level of community, data, and expert analysis to support their diverse range of influence."
