TCP Announces TCP Cloud Services Solutions Pricing Bundle

The new TCP Cloud Services Pricing Bundle gives customers the access to the products in a discounted pricing model.

MIAMI, FL, USA, March 30, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Technology Coast Partners (TCP), a Miami-based consulting firm representing multiple enterprise business solutions, announced today that it is now offering bundled pricing for their TCP Cloud Services solutions. The new TCP Cloud Services Pricing Bundle gives customers the access to the products in a discounted pricing model.

TCP represents the best software solutions available in the market to their clients in Latin America and the world. Within their Cloud Services division, the firm offers clients the tools that bring out the full power and return on investment for each of these solutions including the TCPBOT, TCP XRConnect, and TCP DocSend for both Epicor Kinetic and SAP Business One. Each of these applications was developed by the TCP Innovation team within TCP Engineering.

TCPBOT is a Conversational User Interface platform designed to allow remote teams simple, fast, and secure access to ERP data via WhatsApp. The TCPBOT allows for this secure communication via WhatsApp within and outside of the user based delivering unprecedented access and utilization of the investment into their Epicor Kinetic or SAP Business One ERP system.

TCP XR Connect is an exchange rate automation web service that connects to central banks and other sources to obtain official exchange rates for currency conversion and updates the ERP daily. TCP DocSend is an email automation web service specifically created for EPICOR ERP and SAP Business One that automatically delivers documents such as Invoices, Credit Memos, Cash Receipts and Packing List via email to a predefined distribution list.

" By bundling our pricing, we hope customers will leverage the combined power of each of these applications to further leverage their investment into their ERP and unlock their full potential."

Gonzalo Nunez, CEO of TCP

"Since the inception of TCP, our goal has always been to bring technology solutions to our customers that can drive true digital transformation for their businesses as part of our customer-first mindset," commented Gonzalo Nunez, TCP's Founder and CEO. "The innovations developed for TCP Cloud Services each bring unique value and a strong ROI to our clients. By bundling our pricing, we hope customers will leverage the combined power of each of these applications to further leverage their investment into their ERP and unlock their full potential."
