Driving Protection Gear

Global Driving Protection Gear Market Value at USD 10.36 Bn In 2023 and Is Projected To Reach USD 18.73 Bn By 2033, at a CAGR Of 6.1%.

The driving protection gear market has been displaying a steady growth rate in recent years, owing to the increasing number of accidents on roads and government regulations for the use of protective gear. The market is comprised of various types of gear, including helmets, gloves, jackets, and boots. The surge in demand for sports and adventure activities is also contributing to the growth of the driving protection gear market. The Asia-Pacific region is the largest consumer of driving protection gear, with China and India being the key markets due to the high adoption rate of two-wheelers. North America and Europe also contribute significantly to the market share. The key players in the driving protection gear market include Alpinestars S.p.A, Dainese S.p.A, RevZilla, and Shoei Co. Ltd. The market is expected to witness significant growth in the coming years due to the increasing popularity of electric vehicles and the rising awareness among consumers regarding road safety measures.
