

LEORON Brings First Arabic Language Educational Programs to edX

LEORON and edX launch six Professional Certificate programs in Arabic in business-critical topics.

RIYADH, SAUDI ARABIA, April 5, 2023

/EINPresswire.com/ -- LEORON, a leading corporate training company in the EMEA region, announced a new partnership with edX, a leading global online learning platform from 2U, Inc.

(Nasdaq: TWOU) to offer the first-ever programs in the Arabic language on the edX platform.

LEORON's partnership with edX begins with the launch of six Professional Certificate programs on edX.org including:

human resources, strategic procurement, business process optimization, change management, financial modeling, and governance, risk and compliance.

LEORON is the first professional institute to provide courses in Arabic on edX and joins internationally acclaimed universities with the aim to provide advanced-level education to learners globally.

Enrollment for all programs is open for learners today at <https://www.edx.org/school/leoron>

We're pleased to announce this partnership with edX and add another dimension of service to our learners.”

“We're pleased to announce this partnership with edX and add another dimension of service to our learners. The demand for Arabic language courses is something we are keen to accommodate as our edtech portfolio continues to grow,” said LEORON Chairman Arben Jusufi. “The collaboration with edX will ensure we are able to offer a diverse selection of technology-based learning solutions with the added benefit of being placed among the world's most renowned educational institutes.”

Professional Certificate programs are a series of courses designed to build and enhance critical professional skills needed to succeed in today's most in-demand fields. As companies in the Middle East look to address a shortage of workers with specialized skills, offerings like Professional Certificate programs play an important role in training and development initiatives that drive innovation and impact across the region.

“Partnering with LEORON to launch the first Professional Certificate programs in Arabic on edX is an exciting milestone as we continue to expand our international reach through partnerships and collaborations that meet the specific needs of learners and corporations in high growth regions, including EMEA,” said Andrew Hermalyn, president of partnerships at 2U, the parent company of edX. “As we continue to see demand for high-quality learning experiences that directly address the digital and human skills gap, content like these new Professional Certificate programs from LEORON will be essential in meeting the needs of both learners and employers on a global scale.”

LEORON’s mission is to boost the competitiveness of their clients worldwide through continuous learning. With proven expertise in EMEA, the institute works with companies across the region to increase the competency levels of their employees, through top quality training and development solutions delivered by unrivaled global experts and facilitated by the best training managers in the industry.
