Tommy Smith, president of All Year Cooling

In his interview with Influential People Magazine, Tommy Smith talked about a wide variety of subjects, including what All Year Cooling specializes in and their 50 years in business, what motivated him to become an entrepreneur and business owner, and what he considers to be his greatest professional success. He also touched on some personal subjects such as where he went to school and how he ended up in Weston, Florida, as well as what some of his hobbies are.

When asked what advice he would give to someone who is currently in high school and wants to be an entrepreneur, Tommy Smith replied:

"If you want to become an entrepreneur - do it! It's a lot of work, but if you love what you do and enjoy your job everyday then it doesn't feel like work. Be prepared to take on risks and challenges that may come your way. Make sure this is something that really drives you and excites you because without passion it can be difficult to move forward. Make sure to do your research and plan carefully. Enthusiasm and intensity are important but those alone cannot overcome the deficit of being unprepared. Lastly, I would say make sure to surround yourself with trustworthy people. Some people just say to surround yourself with smart people. You certainly want intelligent people on your team, but it is more important to make sure that those people can be trusted. It is difficult to put yourself out there and be vulnerable, but it will allow you to take your business to the next level."

The interview continued with more questions about Tommy Smith and his role as president of All Year Cooling. As to what sets All Year Cooling apart from its competitors, Mr. Smith said, "All Year Cooling is a family-owned and operated company that prides itself on being reliable, honest and professional. We have a combined total of 50 years in the industry and over 100 employees across South Florida. We're also 100% dedicated to making sure our customers are satisfied. We offer free quotes and make sure that we are available on our customers' timeline. Living in Weston, Florida and having grown up in South Florida, I also personally understand the importance of having good and reliable air conditioning, so we make sure to provide same-day installation. Our people are trained in the installation and servicing of a wide range of brands, so we are able to give our customers lots of options."
