

Learn Math while Playing Racing Game

Kids can learn math using this fun racing game for Android

NEW YORK, UNITED STATES, April 11, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ --

VionixStudio is pleased to announce the launch of its Game "Cool Math Race Games for Kids" on Google Play store.

VionixStudio is a Mobile game publisher and a web-based platform specifically designed to help beginner game developers get started on their journey towards a career in game development. The company provides users with key strategies, tools, and tips to plan and develop games, which are then published on various online platforms. VionixStudio's goal is to help game developers to launch their own games and, ultimately, generate income from their hard work and creativity.

This app is perfect for kids. Would 100% recommend it to anyone. The controls are easy to use, the artwork makes it more exciting, and it is a great way to combine education with entertainment.”

In the company's latest news, VionixStudio has launched a math game which is based on racing cars. Kids can play racing games by solving simple math questions.

“Kids love playing racing games. So, we merged learning math with racing,” says founder of VionixStudio, Vinod Ravisankar. “Kids can race their cars by solving simple math questions. They can compete against a computer in the single player mode or play against a friend in LAN multiplayer mode. The game also has a learning section to teach the basics of Addition, Subtraction, Multiplication and Division.”
