

Thexele releases an album 'Music from the Soul' on April 14, 2023

AUSTRALIA, April 13, 2023

/EINPresswire.com/ -- The main goal of Thexele's music in general and in this exact album is to give aesthetic pleasure in the individual rethinking of each listener. Simply put, this is music from the soul and for the soul.

"I started producing music for this album and publishing individual tracks on Soundcloud (unofficially) about seven years ago. And by the way, most of the compositions fell during the period of my pregnancy. It was one of the most inspiring and beautiful periods of my life. Through creativity, I always wanted to share something very important with the world, to create a mood, but most importantly, this music came from the heart.

Therefore, the name of the album perfectly reflects its essence."

This album mostly includes instrumental compositions, which were created earlier, and a few songs. All the music in this album has been rethought and improved by the author these days.

Some tracks have acquired a completely new sound, due to the singer's vocals and choral vocalizations.

This LP means a lot to me. I believe that this music can help people with mental health problems.”

Thexele

This self-produced album was created to give the listener a new spiritual and emotional experience. Immerse him in the world of dreams and relaxation, and sometimes bring him into a state of deep sadness and even the cry of the soul. It mixes old and new, living, and artificial, light and heavy, light and dark. In a sense, the album is about life itself. All the tracks have interesting catchy melodies and are easy to remember. Some tracks have a meditative effect and can give you moments of peace of mind and take you to a magical world, while others have a shade of dramatism.

An interesting fact: there is one song on this release that differs from the others in that it is one of Thexele's early works - it's "Lunar Tenderness", the main melody and harmony of which were composed when the singer was 14 years old.

This release includes compositions of various genres, but in general, they can be attributed to the genres of Easy Listening, New-Age, and Electronic. Substyles: Adult Contemporary, Mood Music, Chill Out, Dream House, Relaxation. Mood/styles: Piano, Dreamy, Spiritual, Inspirational, and others.

"This music is valuable to me, and I hope it will win the hearts of the listeners. Having gained new professional experience, I was able to revise the mixing and mastering of the tracks, add new touches to the arrangements, and, in some compositions, significantly improve the production and add my own vocals and back vocals."

The Album will be available for sale on CDs after the digital release. You can buy it from the artist's website, Amazon, and other stores with worldwide shipping.

About Thexele

With a craving for the arts and all things beautiful since birth, Thexele has spent all her life performing as a multi-talented artist and creative person. Dreaming of becoming a pianist since toddler, at age 16 she began composing music using her first synthesizer.

It has always been something more than just a hobby, it has been a burning passion, mental need, kind of meditation, and sometimes manifestation of higher energies. But life difficulties forced the young woman to pause music repeatedly and to postpone her eventual career as a musical artist. Fortunately, the turning point came at what seemed to be the most difficult time of Covid-19, when Thexele decided that her further creative career would be focused primarily on music, singing, and songwriting. Her first self-produced single "Forget Our Love" has collected over 70 000 streams. With her first higher education being in the field of arts, she recently also received a postgraduate diploma of a sound designer.
