

New Report Forecasts 5.8 % CAGR for Power Over Escalators and Moving Walkways Market Through 2032

Escalators and Moving Walkways Market is estimated to be US$ 29.8 billion by 2032; Increasing Urbanization and Infrastructure to Propel Market Growth

COVINA, CALIFORNIA, UNITED STATES,
April 12, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ --

Escalators and moving walkways are mechanical devices designed to transport people between different levels of a building or across a large space such as an airport terminal or a shopping mall. They are commonly found in urban areas, transportation hubs, and public buildings and they offer a convenient and efficient way to move large numbers of people quickly and safely. An escalator is a continuously moving staircase that can transport people up or down a level whereas a moving walkway is also known as moving sidewalk which is a flat conveyor belt that transports passengers horizontally. Like escalators, moving walkways are typically powered by an electric motor and can move in either direction.
