By showcasing children's work, we can highlight the value of art education in promoting creativity, self-expression, and personal growth.”

Gianna Riccardi, the Museum's Director of Education and Public Programs

This exhibition provides an opportunity to explore and appreciate a wide range of artistic techniques and styles by children ages four to twelve years old. Mixed media art combines different materials and techniques, such as painting, drawing, and collage, to create unique and dynamic artworks that can be visually stunning and intellectually engaging. "Evoking Places" and the illustration contest this work stemmed from provided the children a space to express their creativity and passion for the environment.

"We are proud to provide a platform for these young artists to share their unique perspectives with our community. By featuring their landscape illustrations, we are reminded of the beauty and diversity of our environment and the importance of preserving it for future generations," said Gianna Riccardi, the Museum's Director of Education and Public Programs. "By showcasing the work of children, we can highlight the value of art education in promoting creativity, self-expression, and personal growth."

"Evoking Places" runs at the Coral Gables Museum from April 15th to June 30th, 2023. Admission is free for Museum Members, $12 for adults, $8 for seniors and students with ID, and $5 for children ages 6-12.
