This is a book for anyone who has been touched by their relationship with an animal. It captures the love and humor within that special relationship in both words and unbelievably charming images.”

Lesley Lyman, Photographer and Artist

named Boris, first-time author Jacqueline Lemieux-Bokor introduces “Remember Me As Sunshine, Love Notes From My Dog”; a 68-page hardcover book featuring portraits of dogs in their golden years paired with original poems.

A book for anyone who has ever loved a dog, Lemieux-Bokor’s Remember Me As Sunshine, was created to honor dogs loved and lost, as well as serve as a sympathy gift for anyone who has lost a dog.

“The love of a dog is so personal that it is often hard to know how to comfort someone when there is a loss. I created this book with the desire that it would feel worthy of the love one shares with their dog,” said Lemieux-Bokor. The book features a compilation of classic black and white portraits of dogs surrounded by still lifes of flowers, butterflies, tennis balls, beach stones and other loving tokens of time spent together.

“This is a book for anyone who has ever been touched by their relationship with an animal,” said Lesley Lyman, Photographer and Artist. “With a light and delicate touch, it focuses on the magic and the mystery behind our human/creature relationships. It captures the love, and it captures the humor in both words and unbelievably charming images. Jacqueline has made a beautiful gift for every family - a book to be looked at over and over again. A gift for those who have lost a dog. A gift for those who have just gotten a new dog. This is a treasure, truly.”

In addition to the portraits and poems written by the author, the book includes 10 pages for owners to add a photo and handwritten memories of their own dog. To purchase the book, <https://remembermeassunshine.com/products/hardcover-book>
