According to the NOAA, the summer of 2022 was the hottest on record for the lower 48 states, and many climatologists are predicting that 2023 will not provide much relief. Thomas Smith, president of All Year Cooling says, "We are happy to have served South Florida for 50 years, and we want our clients to know they can depend on us as their one-stop shop. Nobody in Florida should jeopardize the security of their house or their family's lifestyle.

Whether you live in Vero Beach, Weston, or Homestead, our skilled, punctual, and polite technicians are ready to offer free quotes and same-day installation at your convenience. I also know that my family is much happier and more at ease with good, dependable air conditioning. It gives me a sense of satisfaction to know that our team at All Year Cooling can help bring that same peace of mind and comfort to people all over South Florida."

For those not sure about replacing their unit, the company has a page on its website devoted to educating people about what factors can shorten an AC's lifespan. For instance, if you have been running your current unit constantly, it is probably time for a replacement. Also, having your current unit serviced regularly by a reputable company like All Year Cooling can make a huge difference. Not only will it keep your system running more efficiently, but it can also prevent problems that lead to early need for replacement.

When the time comes to get a new AC system, All Year Cooling can help with that too. They offer free in home quotes where they send someone out to visit you and assess your current situation. That way you know exactly what you need before getting anything installed. If you prefer, you can also go on their website, www.allyearcooling.com, and shop for a system. They offer a wide variety of brands including Daikin, Goodman, Ruud, Rheem, Trane, and many more. The site also has information about installation options and warranties.
