

BoxC Welcomes Chad Jacobsen as New Vice President of Global Business Development

NEW YORK, NY, USA, April 14, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- BoxC, a leading software platform that simplifies international e-commerce logistics, is excited to announce the recent hire of Chad Jacobsen as Vice President of Global Business Development.

BoxC, the leading e-commerce logistics management platform for retailing and logistics businesses

Chad brings over 25 years of experience in business development across various industries, including Commercial Finance, Department of Defense Contracting, and Supply Chain Management. Most recently, he served as an executive founding team member of OneRail, an award-winning Final Mile Optimization Software platform.

Chad's wealth of experience and industry knowledge will be invaluable as he works towards his goal of further expanding BoxC's platform use among major freight forwarders and e-commerce shippers.

BoxC's innovative platform streamlines the launch or expansion of international e-commerce shipping services with these benefits:

- Monetize existing infrastructure
- Increasing revenue without upfront costs
- Rapid implementation and scalability

The platform caters to a wide range of clients, including freight forwarders, postal operators, first and last mile carriers, multinational brands, fulfillment centers, airlines, and e-commerce marketplaces.

BoxC's unique advantages include:

- Integration with last mile carriers around the world
- Calculation of taxes and duties with instant classification
- Air cargo transport coordination with any air carrier contract
- Automated customs clearance and monitoring
- Standardized global parcel insurance

- Automation of complex compliance details, such as denied parties screening, prohibited items, and regulated or restricted items.
- Routing availability based on various factors like origin, destination, weight, dimensions, incoterms, DG, and last mile carriers
- Unified airline recovery, clearance, and transfer to the last mile carrier

As Vice President of Global Business Development, Chad's primary goal is to establish BoxC as the go-to source for Direct to Consumer (D2C) international e-commerce management logistics software. He plans to achieve this by providing additional exposure to the benefits of BoxC through industry referrals, trade shows, and old-fashioned prospecting of viable customers.
