The healthcare industry encompasses a wide range of products and services that are designed to promote, maintain, and improve the health and well-being of individuals. The global healthcare market is expected to continue its growth trajectory, driven by factors such as an aging population, the rise of chronic diseases, and increasing healthcare spending in emerging markets. Key players in the industry include pharmaceutical and biotech companies, medical device manufacturers, and healthcare providers such as hospitals and clinics.

Lung Cancer Therapeutics Market

With growing tumor growth, the lungs' capacity to deliver oxygen to the bloodstream declines. Small cell and non-small cell lung cancers are two types of lung carcinoma that are derived from epithelial cells. The highest mortality rate in the world is due to lung cancer, with smoking tobacco and asbestos exposure being the main causes. Chest pain, weight loss, coughing, and bodily mucous are some of the main signs and symptoms of lung cancer. The most popular lung cancer therapies are chemotherapy, immunotherapy, vaccinations, and radiation therapy.
