Get ready to be transported to the magical city of Paris in the late 1970s, where the author takes readers on a journey of her first love with a striking French lawyer, set against the backdrop of classical music and the vibrant streets of the City of Light. This book captures the essence of first love and the fire of youth in a way that will leave readers breathless.

From the glittering concert halls to the cozy cafes, Julie Scolnik's lyrical writing brings the city and its music to life in a way that will stay with the reader long after the final page.
