Aaquaries Global has been at the forefront of R & D innovations. The R&D team at Aaquaries Global Industries are relentlessly working towards developing indigenous diagnostic solutions to combat the raging disease. Aaquaries Global’s Research & Development (R & D) team are the foundation of our innovative product pipeline.

The Government of India has recently introduced several steps for the advancement of R&D in the pharma sector, including the Umbrella Scheme of the Department of Pharmaceuticals, Ministry of Chemicals and Fertilizers, Government of India (DoP) namely ‘Scheme for Development of Pharmaceutical Industry’. This initiative aims to boost the effectiveness and competitiveness of the domestic pharmaceutical industry to help India’s position in the global market and ensure accessibility. The DoP also recently unveiled a Draft Policy to catalyse R&D and innovation in the pharma-medtech Sector with the aim of enabling an accommodating regulatory environment to speed up R&D and drive targeted funding, develop strong industry-academia collaboration in accordance with global best practices and create top-class infrastructure for innovation in the pharma-medtech sectors”.

Dr Susmita Nayak, Director, Research & Development of Aaquaries Global Industries Limited said “On a global scale, approx. 15 % - 19 % of revenues are spent on R&D and the expenditure is increasing each year. Yet, successful R&D is an elusive area and effort versus success is typically disproportionate. Drug discovery is a risky activity as an average of 5000-10000 lead compounds result in a single successful drug, which can cost in the region of US$ 250-500 million per drug.
