Mobility City of Denver CO is powered by 2 owners with a strong business background who chose to focus on helping others. Josh Liss functions as the President and COO of Mobility City of Denver after a 20+ year career in Public Relations; and Matt Moyers, a recently retired IP Valuation Expert, brings over 20+ years of business experience to bear on his owner/operator position in the franchise.

We understand how important mobility is to our customers, and we are committed to ensuring that you have the best experience possible. So come experience the difference at our new Colorado showroom.”

Vincent Baratta, COO, Mobility City Holdings, Inc.

“Our mission is to provide the mobility impaired with the freedom and independence they deserve. We understand the frustration of seeing loved ones confined due to medical and health issues. The joy that comes from helping people find freedom of movement after having it limited is an exciting way to engage with customers. With our top-notch range of mobility solutions, we help people independently get to the mailbox, run errands at the convenience store, and even stroll around the mall,” said Matt Moyers.

“We’ve each cared for loved ones with mobility challenges and wished there was a company like Mobility City around to provide the services they depend upon. Owning a Mobility City location appealed to me because it allows us to help improve the quality of people’s lives through increased mobility. It feels good to help others,” said Josh Liss.

“Our decision to give Mobility City of Denver to Josh and Matt was an easy one, as they share our vision of providing services that positively impact people's lives. We are confident that they can take our mission to the next level and help even more people live life to the fullest in their community. We can't wait to see what the future holds for this exciting new partnership!" said Diane Baratta.

"Mobility City of Denver CO continues our expansion into the western US and is soon to be joined by a location in Orange County California," said Vincent Baratta, COO for Mobility City. "We're particularly excited to forge new relationships with the owners of Mobility City of Denver given their entrepreneurial enthusiasm, and desire to help people. Don't let anything hold you back - visit Mobility City of Denver soon and experience the ultimate in mobility solutions!" said Vincent Baratta.
