LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA, UNITED STATES, May 18, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The powerful and thought-provoking feature film "Traveling Light," directed by Bernard Rose ("Candyman," "Immortal Beloved," "Anna Karenina," "Paperhouse"), is now widely available on digital following a successful theatrical run.

From Xenon Pictures, and executive producers S. Leigh Savidge (Academy Award-nominated "Straight Outta Compton", "The Legend of Dolemite") and Stephen A. Housden, the film explores the life of Caddy (Tony Todd, "Candyman," "The Crow," "The Rock"), an Uber/Delivery driver searching for his missing son in Los Angeles during the early days of the Pandemic.

Set over a 24-hour period on May 30th, 2020, "Traveling Light" highlights the complex intertwining of lives as Caddy's path crosses Harry (Danny Huston, "Wonder Woman," "X-Men Origins: Wolverine," "Children of Men," "21 Grams," "Succession"), a cult leader holding a bizarre ceremony on Mulholland Drive. With Todd (Stephen Dorff, "True Detective," "Immortals," "Somewhere," "Blade") and Mary (Olivia d'Abo, "Bandit," "Conan the Destroyer," "Point of No Return") attending as acolytes, the film captures the social fabric collapsing in the city as news of George Floyd's murder reverberates.

Described as a "Bunuelian satire of bourgeoisie life in Los Angeles at a moment of extreme crisis," "Traveling Light" offers a timely and essential exploration of society on the brink of change. S. Leigh Savidge, one of the film's executive producers notes, "The film examines the collision course between the thought processes of both haves and have-nots during one of the most trying times in Los Angeles's long history. Bernard Rose captures Los Angeles in a way that many may know, but few have seen."

Director Bernard Rose stated, "The film aims to provoke thought and conversation about the societal upheaval during this critical period. The digital release will allow a wider audience to experience this powerful narrative."

Rose and cellist Jen Kuhn composed the score, with feature performances by Bulgarian singer/songwriter Ivo Demchev, whose work has been extolled in The New Yorker as "Sliding effortlessly between masculine and feminine modes; his vocal range is equally protean, moving from a low baritone to a soprano embellished with theremin-like vibratos."
