USA, April 25, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Tegria, a leading healthcare consulting and technology services company, today announced the acquisition of Sisu Healthcare IT Solutions, a highly regarded MEDITECH certified hosting and services firm headquartered near Duluth, Minn.

Sisu brings breadth and depth in healthcare technology operations, and they share our partnership approach to client engagement.”

Brian Cahill, chief executive officer, Tegria

With the addition of Sisu’s team of experts, Tegria deepens its established hosting, technical solutions and managed services offerings to support MEDITECH clients. A leader in MEDITECH consulting services, Tegria’s experienced consultants leverage a comprehensive set of proprietary internal tools and methodologies to improve workflows and processes enabling MEDITECH clients to successfully implement, optimize and utilize their systems.

“Sisu brings breadth and depth in healthcare technology operations, and they share our partnership approach to client engagement,” said Brian Cahill, chief executive officer, Tegria. “The team strengthens our portfolio of MEDITECH-based offerings and bolsters our ability to help our clients maximize the full capabilities of their systems.”

Since its founding in 1997, Sisu has earned a stellar reputation for customer care, value and technical expertise, broadening its customer experience from primarily rural hospitals in the upper Midwest of the United States to urban facilities, post-acute centers and specialty care hospitals across the country.

“Tegria and Sisu share a steadfast commitment to supporting healthcare organizations as they drive toward innovation and efficiency in their IT environments,” said Kevin Boerboom, chief executive officer, Sisu. “We’re thrilled to join Tegria and partner with clients to help them improve outcomes and transform.”
