

Announcing AfroBits South Florida, Miami Tech Week's first hybrid intercontinental event

AfroBits South Florida, the first event to connect the African, European and American tech ecosystems will take place at Venture Cafe Miami on April 27th.

MIAMI, FLORIDA, UNITED STATES, April 25, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- African, European, and American partners are joining forces with the South Florida tech community to explore African innovation, culture, and cuisine during Miami Tech Month.

This event will act as a launchpad, building one of many bridges that will connect global African innovation with US partners, resources, as well as opportunities and vice versa. More events are expected to follow with African country-specific focus.

African culture will also be celebrated during AfroBits South Florida, an immersive African experience that will offer attendees the opportunity to sample AfroBites, traditional African bites, and drinks, as well as AfroBeats music and ambiance while also featuring several AfroBits tech sessions including a global pitch contest, panels, and unique networking opportunities.

Daba, a leading investment platform for Africa will bring together a panel on "How to get involved in African Innovation" to gain insights on the current state of innovation in Africa, emerging trends, key players, and existing challenges.

AfroBytes will also host the 7th edition of its annual conference on April 28th in Paris, France, and will stream several sessions in collaboration with AfroBits South Florida.

This event is open to all attendees of all backgrounds and will feature minority and underrepresented founders, funders, and tech community partners.

Attendees are invited to register here: <https://afrobits.eventbrite.com> to attend the event in person or virtually.
