Eco-friendly alternatives

Remanufactured cartridges save the customer money without sacrificing quality and are an eco-friendly alternative to original equipment manufacturer (OEM) supplies. With the world moving towards eco-friendly products, the company understood the need of the hour and has come up with such alternatives for the customers.

However, customers are the kings and the company strongly believes that. Hence they have not compromised the quality of the products.

Testing of the product regularly

Additionally, they regularly test the product lines from their vendors to ensure that they continually provide the highest product quality available. It ensures that the products that reach the customers are all tested for any malfunction and other defects. This high level of professionalism is what sets the company from other companies in the same business. It is due to this reason that they have been going strong in this business.

Satisfaction Guarantee Policy

In addition, the customers may be sure that their purchase from LAinks will satisfy them. The company provides a 100% Satisfaction Guarantee policy for patrons. Their fantastic customer care executives can assist customers with different problems. These executives are readily available for responding to any problems that users might have about the different products.

Any customer can also mail their queries to the company at support@lains.com. It helps customers to get their queries and questions answered quickly.

Wide range of payment cards accepted

To ease the customers in their purchase, the company accepts different cards. Visa-MasterCard, American Express, Discover- Paypal, and Paypal eCheck - Debit Cards with Visa or MasterCard logos are some of the cards that the company accepts for payment purposes. They however do not accept checks or money orders from customers.

An array of brands for varied customer groups

There are different brands available for users to choose from. The brands that are easily available with LAinks include Brother, Canon, Dell Epson, HP, Kodak, Konica, Kyocera, Lexmark, Okidata, Samsung, and Xerox. Hence a customer can be assured that they will find the product of their choice at this shop. Due to its huge range of product availability, the company can cater
