Wild Pop Prebiotic Sodas

Wild Pop isn't just good for your body - it's good for the environment too. Some of the biggest beverage brands generate enough waste to cover 33 football fields per day and contain harmful artificial sweeteners and chemicals. Buchi is on a mission to change this, disrupting the soda industry with their commitment to creating eco-friendly products, with their popular kefir soda, living energy, and kombucha lines. As a Benefit Corporation, their manufacturing facility uses solar panels which offsets waste and feeds residual power back into the grid.
