FRANKLIN, TN, USA, June 6, 2023

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Sonority Group, a leading education-based marketing agency, is proud to announce the expansion of its services to include professional website design and development for higher education institutions, schools, and education-based technology companies.

As the education industry continues to evolve and become increasingly competitive, having a solid online presence is more important than ever. With Sonority Group's website design and development services, education-based organizations can now create a powerful online presence that attracts more students, parents, and customers.

We understand the unique needs of the education industry and how to reach the right audiences, so adding website design and development made total sense for our current and future clients.”

Chris Davie, CEO of Sonority Group

“Our team is ecstatic to offer website design and development as an extension of our existing marketing services. We have wanted to do this for our clients for some time,” said Chris Davie, CEO of Sonority Group. “We understand the unique needs of the education industry, and website design and development fully integrates with Sonority Group’s suite of services to create fully customized marketing solutions that meet each client's specific needs.”

Sonority Group's website services include a range of features and capabilities, such as custom and theme-based website design, development, user-friendly interfaces, mobile responsiveness, search engine optimization (SEO), site migrations, and website maintenance and support packages.

"We believe every education-based organization deserves a website that looks great but is also user-friendly and easy to navigate," added Chris Davie. "Our team is dedicated to helping our clients achieve their marketing goals and, along with that, create a strong online presence that attracts and engages their target market and audience."
