Winners of the Top 50 Most Innovative Products for 2023

“

We congratulate all the winners and are excited to continue this tradition of celebrating some of the coolest products and services we found in a wide cross section of categories.”

Charles Warner, Editor-in-Chief

The Top 50 Most Innovative Products is I&TT’s most popular feature every year. The feature includes a collection of business innovations, new products, and connected services, along with gadgets from industries such as healthcare, smart home, outdoor and adventure, STEM, gaming, and entertainment.

Last year featured the best of the best in outdoor, fitness, gaming, office, home, and recreational gear, and more. This year, we are upped the ante, adding visionary tech from CES 2023 and beyond and choosing the best all-around gadgets, which continue to improve exponentially year-over-year.

“Every year we unearth some of the most innovative products on the market. We pride ourselves on having a sharp eye for finding novel products that are technologically advanced and highly useful,” said Charles Warner, chief executive officer of Innovative Properties Worldwide, and publisher/editor-in-chief of Innovation & Tech Today. “Each product will be vigorously tested by our entire editorial staff, as we narrow down the entrants to the best possible reflection of products that will appeal to our readers.”
