About the Author

Born to a loving middle-class family in Queens, New York, he enjoyed a pleasant childhood. His father worked as a sanitation worker and also owned an Irish pub, while his mother was a homemaker who raised him and his two older brothers. During his early years, he often visited his father's pub on Sunday mornings to lend him a helping hand.

Although he was fortunate to study at good schools, he never learned much about finance until his later years. He achieved a Bachelor's Degree of Science in Accounting from Fairfield University in 2002, and a Master's Degree in Business Administration in 2003.

After graduating, his first job required him to review the financial statements of companies like Pepsi and Domino Sugar. As he started to explore new opportunities, he interviewed at a financial services company where he worked in risk management for approximately 15 years, after which he joined a cryptocurrency exchange. From there, he founded Walk You To Wealth, a financial planning, coaching, and education company.

During his journey, he has become a Personal Financial Specialist, a Certified Public Accountant, and a CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNERTM, to enhance his knowledge of personal finance. Currently residing in Massachusetts with his wife and two children, he aspires to achieve financial independence by the age of 47.
