Digital Mail is the digitization of incoming mail processing that utilizes intelligent capture and AI technology to route to individuals, departments or integrated technologies. This solution allows users access to mail and documents throughout an organization no matter where associates may be located, all delivered directly to their inboxes.

Onsite Document Scanning eliminates those stored physical documents to free up valuable storage, and allow easy retrieval of documents through search.

Conductiv is a leading third-party spend improvement company, uniting an alliance of buyers and suppliers to transform the acquisition of services. With integrated data and analytics, supply chain solutions, advisory and managed services, and a secondary GPO dedicated to activating service contracts, Conductiv unlocks operational efficiencies that have earned its customers more than $800 Million in contract savings. conductiv.com
