The Web3.Conference opens its doors on May 19 in the vibrant city of Amsterdam. It's rich in culture, with numerous museums, galleries, theaters and events. But that's not all: you'll get to experience numerous side events and a special afterparty just for the guests of The Web3.Conference.

Web3 builders, investors, marketers, creators, developers, CEOs, and numerous NFT projects will be there to share their knowledge and offer unique opportunities for further growth. The event will offer much more than just networking through mixing with individuals and companies who share your passion for Web3.

The organizers of this event, AroundB, have already held several events in Amsterdam. These include The Conference.Exchanges: How to DEX in 2022, which was held in the charming Vondel Church, done up in a Gothic revival style, and The Conference.Exchanges: DeFi Edition. Both events had tremendous success and were entirely sold out. The upcoming The Web3.Conference promises to repeat this feat on an even grander scale.

Would you like to collaborate and support the event? AroundB has plenty of options for sponsors and partners. If you have expertise to share, you can submit your candidacy for a speaker slot. Contact AroundB to receive a sponsorship deck and discuss further opportunities: hello@aroundb.com
