With over 200 movies and television shows to her credit, Peterson is a veteran performer. She shares her action-packed experiences in her memoir “Hollywood Stuntwoman.” Peterson has a unique job description. Whether it involves riding and jumping a galloping horse or participating in a high-speed vehicle chase, her narrative is one-of-a-kind. Enthralled by her story, Peterson’s friends and family convinced her to write a book.

“It’s my life punctuated by great stunts and comes with messages about overcoming fear and following your dreams,” says Peterson.

Peterson’s path to success was not always easy. In her 40-year career, Peterson has overcome many obstacles, including becoming the first female East Coast Stuntmen's Association member. According to The Malibu Times, her passion for being a stuntwoman was kindled while working as an actress on the television show "Kojak." From the beginning, it looked as if Peterson's career would never take off.

"I was told, 'forget it, honey,' we put the wigs on, and we do the stunts," says Peterson.

Persistence paid off, and eventually, Peterson was given a chance. The stunt performers' group offered her a job; the rest is history. Peterson has contributed to major Hollywood movies, including Titanic, The Laundromat, Green Hornet, Batman Forever, Marked for Death, Out for Justice, Robocop II, Airplane, and a number of others. Numerous television shows, including Walker, Texas Ranger, Fall Guy, MacGyver, and Magnum P.I., have benefited from her contributions.

The Malibu Times states, "Peterson's books shares a fascinating glimpse into the world of Hollywood stunts and the incredible skill and dedication it takes to make it as a stunt performer. But even for those outside the industry, Peterson's story is an inspiring one, filled with valuable lessons about overcoming obstacles and following your passions."
