

Hip-Hop artist Saukar headed to surgery to fix complications from aortic dissection

Rapper getting aortic stent procedure to prevent further dissection

CLEVELAND, OHIO, UNITED STATES, May 11, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- After a major aortic dissection emergency surgery, the Date Night rapper, Saukar, is under going another surgery to help prevent further problems. He will be having a aortic stent performed at Cleveland Clinic today, which is can be a standard procedure for people who have a history of heart disease.

“I feel good going under the knife today, but definitely a little nervous. Undergoing this procedure, I want to just alert the Hip-Hop community regarding the seriousness of taking care of your health.”

Look for Saukar on all streaming platforms

In 2019, Saukar was almost a fatality, as he had to be careflighted to the University of Cincinnati for an aortic dissection. With a survival rate of less than six percent, people who have aortic dissections rarely live. Today's procedure will not be as intensive as Saukar has been recovering quicker than expected.
