

Hisense Launches Its Line Up of Award Winning New Generation TVs

DUBAI, UNITED ARAB EMIRATES, May 12, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Hisense, a leading global consumer electronics manufacturer, has unveiled its latest line of award-winning ULED X TVs at the International Consumer Electronics Show (CES) 2023. The new generation of Hisense ULED X TVs features advanced Mini LED technology, offering superior picture quality with over 10,000 local dimming zones and a peak brightness of up to 10,000 nits. The lineup includes models ranging from 55-inch to 85-inch, with the 85UX model being the largest. The ULED X series also boasts a wide range of smart features, including built-in AI voice assistants, 4K UHD resolution, and Dolby Vision HDR support. Hisense CEO, Zhang Ruimin, stated, "We are proud to introduce our latest ULED X TVs, which represent a significant leap forward in television technology. These TVs offer unparalleled picture quality and smart features, making them the perfect choice for discerning consumers. We look forward to continuing our commitment to innovation and excellence in the consumer electronics industry."

Hisense's ULED X TVs are available in a variety of finishes, including matte black, silver, and gold. The company also offers a range of accessories, including wall mounts, soundbars, and remote controls. Hisense ULED X TVs are available for purchase through its official website, as well as through authorized retailers. The company's website also features a detailed overview of the ULED X series, including technical specifications and product images. Hisense is a leading global consumer electronics manufacturer, with a strong presence in the U.S. market. The company's products are sold through a network of authorized retailers, including Best Buy, Amazon, and Target. Hisense is committed to providing high-quality products and exceptional customer service, and it continues to invest in research and development to bring innovative new products to market.
