Biopharma Buffer Market

A biopharma buffer is a type of buffer used in biochemistry and molecular biology. It is a buffered solution that helps maintain the pH of a reaction or sample. BioPharma buffers are also known as biological buffers, biochemical buffers, or simply buffers.

A buffer solution is comprised of a weak conjugate acid-base pair. Small quantities of other acids or bases are neutralized when added to the solution, and as a result, the solution resists the changes in pH. Solutions with stable pH are obligatory for the processing of protein-based biologic APIs because of their sensitivity to changes in pH. The stable pH range and capacity of a buffer are determined by the conjugate acid-base pair. Controlling pH is essential for a variety of biopharmaceutical process steps.
