

Fire Department Background Investigations

ProFirst Training and Consulting, LLC, launches FD Backgrounds, the first dedicated background investigation service for fire departments nationwide.

USA, May 31, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- ProFirst Training and Consulting, the nation's leading provider of public safety background investigations, is proud to announce the launch of FD Backgrounds the first dedicated background investigation service for fire departments nationwide.

Until now, fire departments have faced a major challenge during recruitment efforts due to a lack of properly trained and available background investigators. FD Backgrounds was developed to fill this void. The service is easy to use and does not require any contracts for a minimum number of backgrounds or commitments for a length of time. This means fire departments can use the service as and when needed without worrying about any contractual obligations or posting cumbersome requests for quotes. Whether you need a single background investigation or a comprehensive package of services, FD Backgrounds can help.

Our goal is to provide fire departments with the same level of expertise and professionalism in background investigations that we have provided to law enforcement agencies for many years”

John Pallas, Director of FD Backgrounds

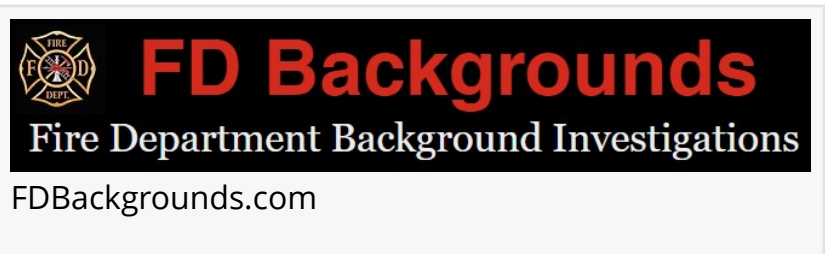

FD Backgrounds; the nation's first dedicated fire department background investigation service.

FD Backgrounds is staffed with experienced investigators who specialize in fire department background investigations. They have an in-depth understanding of the unique challenges that come with investigating fire department candidates. They use the latest tools and techniques to provide the most comprehensive reports, ensuring that human resources and command staff can make informed decisions when hiring new personnel. The comprehensive investigations are FCRA, ADA and Title VII compliant.

"We are excited to launch FD Backgrounds-- the first dedicated background investigation service for fire departments. Our goal is to provide fire departments with the same level of expertise and professionalism in background investigations that we have provided to law enforcement agencies for many years," said John Pallas, Director of ProFirst Training and Consulting, LLC.
