"It's an honor to connect with other innovators in the field of testing automation and share the ideas that are guiding our goals and customer success initiatives for 2023," Pankaj says. "Key topics include DevOps and continuous testing as enablers of healthy ERP ecosystems, the role of testing in streamlining migrations, and the importance of utilizing new technology to keep apps secure." StarEast is the leading event for software testers, and a hub of innovation for accelerating testing practices to meet today's rapidly evolving software landscape. Blueprint 4D is where Oracle customers join forces with Oracle product teams and partners to explore novel Oracle solutions.

Opkey remains the leading test automation platform for ERP transformations, migrations, implementations, and the business-as-usual maintenance of packaged apps. Opkey is proud to sponsor events that lead to such transformation and innovate with companies that are ready to move into the new age of test automation.
