William Roy Crawford was a decorated war hero who served in the U.S. Army for over 30 years, including a combat tour in Vietnam, where he was awarded the Silver Star and the Distinguished Service Cross for his actions during the Tet Offensive. He retired from the Army as a colonel and was buried with full military honors at Arlington National Cemetery. Lela Ann Crawford, on the other hand, was a writer, editor, and publisher who dedicated her life to supporting military personnel and their families with her brilliant writing.

Together, the Crawfords co-founded Military Living Magazine, which became the primary source of information for military personnel traveling on government orders. Their work has inspired many people, and their passing is a loss to the military community. Lela was a writer for the Stars and Stripes and served on several military committees, including the Defense Advisory Committee on Women in the Services (DACOWITS), where she provided valuable assistance in developing educational magazines and websites for the military community.

Though both have now passed away, their impact on the community remains significant, and their legacy continues to inspire. The auction is being scheduled by order of the trustee, and the condo will be sold through the "Sell With Zero" program by Blue Box Auction Gallery, which does not charge seller commission and uses a robust marketing program to garner awareness worldwide. This unique auction method has already generated considerable interest.

The Westin in Virginia Beach is the tallest building in the state, and the Westin Residences are full ownership (not timeshare or fractional) condominiums atop a 4-Star Westin Hotel. The condo boasts stunning ocean views and an opulent living space. Condo Hotels combine hotel conveniences and luxuries with the security and privacy of home ownership. The sale of the property will contribute to the trust fund that the Crawfords left behind and will provide an opportunity for someone to own a piece of property in a prime location.

□The upcoming auction is a rare chance to own a piece of real estate in one of Virginia Beach's most prestigious areas. The legacy of the Crawfords and their contributions to the military community, along with the exceptional location of the condo, make this auction a unique event that is not to be missed.
