We are thrilled to be so close to unveiling Salt & Vine Restaurant at the restored Olney House to the community. We've worked tirelessly to ensure that every detail of the restoration is perfect."

Thomas Zippelli

The Olney House has been a fixture in the Olney community for over a century. Michael Zippelli, co-owner of Salt & Vine Restaurant, added, "The Olney House is an important part of Olney's history, and we're honored to have had the opportunity to restore it. We're excited to see the community embrace the new Olney House and look forward to serving our guests."

The original structure was built in 1901, and since then, it has undergone numerous renovations and changes in ownership. In 2019, Thomas Zippelli purchased the Olney House with a vision to restore the historic building to its original glory. The restoration project began in the spring of 2020, with plans to expand the existing building and add several new patios, dining spaces, a new bar, and a new kitchen.

However, the restoration project coincided with the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic, which brought construction to a halt. Despite the challenges, Salt & Vine Restaurant and their contractor, Mark Koski of GYC Construction in Westminster, MD, persevered and worked diligently to bring the Olney House back to its former beauty. They also worked closely with the historical society and the county to ensure that the renovation stayed true to the building's original design.

The restoration project included the partial demolition of the Olney House, which revealed that the building was in very rough shape and not structurally sound. This meant that the building had to be gutted and rebuilt, with a new porch added to bring back the original look of the building. The renovation also included the addition of several new patios and dining spaces, a new bar, and a new kitchen.

The kitchen team especially, is excited to start serving up a delicious and modern Italian menu. Our commitment to excellence is evident in every aspect of our establishment, from the sleek and stylish decor to the impeccable service. At the heart of our menu are the chef-driven flavors of Italy, showcased in a wide range of dishes that celebrate the diversity and richness of Italian cuisine (see the menu).

Our steak offerings are a standout feature of our menu, crafted with precision and care to deliver the most mouth-watering and succulent steaks that will satisfy the most discerning palate.
