The new show will take place once a month and feature leading experts and influencers across the senior care spectrum and will focus on senior care topics and issues.

“There is a gap in services today, addressing critical issues in an open format,” says La Bey, who also is the co-founder of Dementia Map and author of Betty the Bald Chicken – Lesson in How to Care. “One that is inclusive and not designed for a set outcome, but one that allows a variety of voices to be heard. I believe it's through this inclusive nature, that Conscious Caregiving with L & L will be able to bring passionate partners and visionaries together to create a better world.”

La Bey believes that by having conscious conversations in a respectful manner, we can reach a broader audience where all feel valued, heard and inspired.

"It will be an honor to work side by side with Lance Slatton on our new venture Conscious Caregiving with L & L," she added. "Lance is an excellent communicator, visionary and consummate professional. How lucky am I!"

Slatton (CSCM) also feels lucky to be working with "one of the leading voices in dementia care."

"All Home Care Matters is excited to be partnering with one of the foremost experts and names in the dementia care community, Lori La Bey," Slatton said. "We are looking forward to helping and supporting the countless caregivers that are caring for their loved ones by providing resources to help make these challenges a little easier."

"This partnership with Lori was an easy decision for us to make," Slatton continued. "When you look at the leading voices in dementia care and in this space you quickly come to the realization that Lori La Bey has been helping families and their loved ones for a very long time and has widespread respect and admiration for all that she has done and continues to do for so many families facing these long-term care issues."

La Bey added: "Both of us are passionate about creating a safe space to have authentic conversations regarding uncomfortable topics. We aspire to offer a well-rounded panel of people from around the world to highlight various sides of an issue. This will allow us to learn from each other, discuss options and outcomes, and inspire one another to improve the lives of those we serve."
