Landfall of Super Typhoon Mawar on Guam, I knew I had to take action as it heads to Philippines. Donating to Nonprofit For Good was the best way for me to help provide essential aid to the victims.”

The Impact of Super Typhoon Mawar

According to the Philippine Atmospheric, Geophysical and Astronomical Services Administration (PAGASA), Super Typhoon Mawar has maintained its strength, with sustained winds near the center reaching 175 km/h and gusts of up to 215 km/h. The typhoon is expected to continue intensifying over the next few days, potentially reaching a peak intensity of 215 km/h on Sunday. Although it is projected to weaken after its peak, it will still remain a typhoon until the end of the forecast period.

The forecast suggests that Mawar will enhance the Southwest Monsoon, triggering heavy monsoon rains in several regions. This includes the western portions of Mimaropa, Visayas, Mindanao, Luzon, and Visayas, with expected rainfall from Sunday onwards. As a result, communities in these areas are at high risk of flash floods, landslides, and other devastating consequences.

The Urgent Need for Assistance

The National Disaster Risk Reduction and Management Council (NDRRMC) and other relevant agencies are actively preparing for the potential impact of Super Typhoon Mawar. However, the scale of the disaster and the challenges it presents demand additional support. Nonprofit For Good aims to provide immediate relief and assistance to the affected regions, offering essential supplies, medical aid, and other crucial resources to those in need.
