

Ace Cloud Introduces Advanced Linux VDI Services for Enhanced Virtual Desktop Experience

Unified and Timely Data Access for Remote Linux Workforce: Ace Cloud's Linux VDI Services Offer a Single Source of Truth

FLORIDA, USA, May 26, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Ace Cloud, a leading provider of cloud solutions, is excited to announce the launch of its Linux Virtual Desktop Infrastructure (VDI) services, designed to provide businesses with an efficient and reliable solution for their virtual desktop needs.

Linux VDI is the ideal solution for businesses that need high-performance computing capabilities, easy collaboration, and cost-effective IT management.

With the Linux VDI service, businesses can now enjoy a more seamless virtual desktop experience, with the flexibility to choose from a wide range of Linux distributions, including Ubuntu, CentOS, and Debian, and deploy them on virtual machines that are tailored to their specific needs. The service is built on a secure and scalable infrastructure, ensuring maximum uptime and reliability.

"ACE Cloud is committed to providing businesses with the most advanced and secure cloud hosting solutions. Our Linux VDI service is the latest addition to our portfolio. We are confident it will provide businesses with the flexibility and reliability they need to succeed in today's fast-paced business environment." said Rohit Bhadola, IT Head, Ace Cloud.

The Linux VDI service is built on a secure and scalable infrastructure, providing businesses with a seamless virtual desktop experience. The service ensures maximum uptime and reliability with automatic updates and patches, multi-factor authentication, and 24/7 technical support.
