/EINPresswire.com/ -- Truckers, owner operators, and private fleet owners can now access invaluable mentorship in artificial intelligence where the trucking industry lags behind. DrBigRig introduces a groundbreaking solution that allows individuals to listen to and even participate with industry experts through the hands-free dialing feature on the Trucker Titans live podcast. This free show focuses on various hot topics derived from DrBigRig's world-class trucking transformation private coaching program, providing new companies with a competitive edge against larger, more established trucking operations.

Darren Chabluk, Trucking Transformation coach at DrBigRig.com and host of Trucker Titans podcast

"DrBigRig.com's Trucking Transformation program offers personalized 1-on-1 coaching to individuals, even those with no prior experience, who are starting single truck or private fleet operations. "Our Trucker Titans podcast provides easy access to the world of 'AI first' trucking strategy and operations," says Darren Chabluk, a trucking transformation coach at DrBigRig and the host of the Trucker Titans podcast.

Both DrBigRig's private coaching service and the Trucker Titans podcast confirm the immense benefits of this training for all parties determined to unlock a healthy profit per mile and stay ahead with the latest logistical technology. Single truck owner operators and private fleet owners gain valuable insights into how top-earning companies, representing the top 20% of trucking companies in North America, operate. Through this partnership, members gain access to reliable systems that lower operating costs by crowdsourcing office manpower overseas, reducing the cost per mile, utilizing artificial intelligence for load booking, and learning how to qualify for hard-to-find trucking grants.

"Artificial intelligence in logistics is not limited to industry AI leaders such as DHL or Prime. With the right coaching, a single truck owner can easily implement an automated data system that leads to a profitable new income stream through automated load booking," emphasizes Muller Poclus Jr., the lead data scientist for DrBigRig.com.
