DOTCOMCANVAS, a leading European exclusive artwork seller, is cracking down on copycat accounts that have been impersonating their trademark brand name on Instagram. With a commitment to maintaining customer trust and preserving brand integrity, DOTCOMCANVAS has proactively shut down nine unauthorized accounts through official reports to Instagram's legal team.

We will not tolerate any attempts to deceive or mislead our valued clientele. We have taken action and will continue to do so to protect our customers and our brand.”

In recent times, DOTCOMCANVAS discovered a troubling trend where unscrupulous competitors created Instagram accounts using their trademarked brand name. These impersonating accounts deceived customers into believing they were engaging with the authentic DOTCOMCANVAS, leading to confusion and frustration among the loyal clientele. Recognizing the gravity of these deceptive practices, DOTCOMCANVAS has taken swift action to protect its customers.

By promptly reporting the unauthorized accounts to Instagram's legal team, DOTCOMCANVAS has successfully shut down twelve Instagram accounts and more than four hundred content this year alone. This decisive move ensures that customers can confidently engage with the genuine DOTCOMCANVAS and avoid falling victim to misleading impostors. DOTCOMCANVAS issues a strong warning to all individuals or businesses involved in such copycat activities, urging them to immediately cease their deceptive practices and delete any pages or accounts opened under the DOTCOMCANVAS name.
