Next up wildlife NFTs

The first auction of the Genesis NFT Collection has been a roaring success, with all 8 NFTs from the initial drop selling out and attracting over 100 bids on a brand-new NFT marketplace. Powered by the carbon-negative blockchain Celo, each bid has proven that early adopters on Web3 can create an impact in raising awareness for endangered species. This accomplishment represents a significant milestone for Wildchain's team and community.

"We're not only dropping more NFTs but will launch new features such as trading on the marketplace soon. Our Genesis NFT Collection is not just about owning NFTs; it's about becoming stewards of our planet's biodiversity. We are excited to continue this journey and invite everyone to join us in preserving the wonders of nature." — Florian Rehm, Executive Director @ Wildchain
