"At Lawyer.com, we're not just embracing the future of the legal industry, we're actively shaping it. As a technology-first company, we're at the forefront of driving meaningful change in the way law is delivered. But we're not just about transforming the legal landscape; our focus is on enhancing the overall experience of law for everyone involved, consumers and lawyers alike. That's why we invite individuals from all backgrounds to join us on this transformative journey. Together, we can shape a future where the power of technology and the human touch come together to create truly remarkable legal experiences." - Colleen Joyce, President, Lawyer.com

Submissions will be assessed based on criteria that include innovation, vision, and passion, market potential, AI concept and implementation, user experience design, and execution capabilities. Applicants must submit their entries before the deadline on July 19, 2023. The winner will be announced on August 30, 2023.

We are not interested in AI projects that just repackage existing generative AI services. Faster content creation, more display ads, clever images, document production and summaries are now basic AI services. We are looking for hard, original applications that can leverage terabytes of anonymized text, voice and video training data, already enhanced with human feedback.
