Family-Owned Solar Business With Deep Roots in Connecticut With Cost-effective Systems in the industry.

Titan Energy, a new solar energy consulting company taking an innovative approach to harnessing power from the Sun, has announced its entry into the Connecticut renewable energy market.

Titan Energy uses only black-on-black, low-profile panels for the most aesthetic look available.

Owned by Angelo Aguiar of Trumbull, Connecticut, who brings nearly a decade of industry experience to this new venture, and is committed to making solar energy easier to acquire and more affordable for CT residents.

"We don't just want to be different; we want to be better," said Aguiar. "We have put together a team of people from across many other industries and sectors to create a new vision for how solar and solar-related solutions will be brought to market," in Connecticut.

Titan Energy Consultants is a full-service solar energy company that provides turnkey energy solutions for residential customers. The company offers a range of services, including solar panel installation, energy storage systems, and other related innovations.

According to Aguiar, "Our mission is to provide cost-effective, sustainable, and reliable solar solutions to our customers. We believe that solar energy is the future, and we are committed to helping Connecticut businesses and residents transition to clean, renewable energy."

Our mission is to provide cost-effective, sustainable solar solutions to our Connecticut customers. We don't just want to be different; we want to be better. We believe solar is the future."
