NUTLEY, NJ, USA, May 31, 2023

/EINPresswire.com/ -- StoreAutomator, preferred choice of platform for brands looking to scale online through multichannel sales and operations automation, today announced the launch of its Ambassador Program. The program is designed to help StoreAutomator grow its customer base by giving existing customers and industry experts the opportunity to earn rewards for referring new customers.

“We’re excited to launch our Ambassador Program and give our customers and industry experts a way to earn rewards for helping us grow our business,” said Roger Miah, Head of Partnerships at StoreAutomator. “Our customers and the experts we so frequently work with are brilliant advocates, and we’re grateful for their support.”

Under the program, a StoreAutomator Ambassador will earn a commission for each new customer they refer who signs up for a paid subscription.

“We’re confident that our Ambassador Program will be a success,” said Roger. “We have a great community of customers who are passionate about our product and support, and we’re excited to see them help us work with even more businesses.”
