Robert Uncles, chief creative officer and spokesperson for Weimar Pictures, expressed profound gratitude for the recognition. "We are immensely honored to receive these accolades at the 44th Annual Telly Awards. They serve as a testament to the exceptional talent and dedication of our team at Weimar Pictures. We remain committed to pushing the boundaries of our craft and will continue to create visually captivating content that resonates with audiences worldwide."

The 44th Annual Telly Awards introduced new categories that celebrate the positive impact of video and emerging technologies. winners announcement caps a year-long celebration of creators and talent who truly stand out during a time when the ubiquity of screens brings more clutter than quality into our lives. These are the creators and innovators who spotlight diverse voices, who are building a more sustainable industry, and who break through the static with their creativity.

In function of this, a series of new categories were introduced to reflect and celebrate ways in which video is being used as a force for good and the ways in which emerging technologies are pushing the boundaries of innovation. New categories this season included Virtual Art Direction, Use of Motion Capture, and Digital Environments alongside new honors in Pro Bono, CSR, and Video Journalism to celebrate ethical, philanthropic, and educational work.

This was a record breaking year with nearly 13,000 entries from across the globe and top video and television content producers such as Airbnb, Audible, BET Networks/BET Digital, BritBox, Disney, FEMA, Gaumont, Golden State Warriors, MediaMonks, NASA, National Geographic Society, Netflix, Paramount, PBS Digital Studios and more.
