of Capital Drug*

Peter Behrent, Vice President of Capital Drug, stated, “DSCSA has many product validation requirements that may be challenging for some pharmacies to manage. Our exclusive relationship with Advasur will enable Capital Drug to offer dispenser solutions to our customers to simplify the management of these compliance requirements. Our goal is to support our downstream pharmacy customers and jointly protect the patients.”

David Bailey, Managing Director of Advasur ATP System Interoperability Services Division, discussed how Advasur intends to support Capital Drug by stating, “Advasur will offer our comprehensive ATP interoperable system to receive and validate EPCIS data. With this tool, Advasur will provide monitoring capabilities and certification of all trading partners and transmissions for Capital Drug and its trading partners.”

“Collaborating with key supply chain partners to assure the safety and security of our nations pharmaceuticals for the safety and benefit of patients is core to what we do at Advasur, and we could not be more pleased to partner in this effort with a premier organization like Capital

Wholesale Drug” said Randy Hoggle BPharm, DrPH, MBA, Managing Director of Advasur LLC.

“It is our priority to protect the drug supply chain and meet all DSCSA regulatory mandates.” added George K. Richards, President of Capital Drug. “With the necessary tools in place, we can help our trading partners protect their businesses and, most importantly, their patients. As a proven and trusted Turnkey Compliance System and Services Solution provider, Advasur makes it easy for dispensers to comply with DSCSA regulatory mandates.”
