

Leaders in Cyber Security Conference Series and the MSPAA Join Forces to Safeguard the Digital Landscape

Connecting Sr. Level Executives with Renowned Information Security Experts, and Cutting-Edge Solution Providers to Protect Today's Enterprise

CHICAGO, IL, UNITED STATES, June 6, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- MSPAA, the national leading MSP Association, is pleased to announce a strategic partnership with the Official Cyber Security Summit, a premier, invitation-only cyber security conference series for C-Suite Executives, Business Leaders, and other Senior Level Cyber Professionals.

The Official Cyber Security Summit has been ranked as one of the “Top 50 Must-Attend Conferences” by DigitalGuardian. Learn from renowned security experts from around the globe on how to protect your business from cyber attacks in interactive Panels

As cyber-attacks continue to increase in complexity and frequency, it is imperative for organizations to stay ahead of the curve in safeguarding their valuable assets, sensitive data, and digital infrastructure. Through this partnership, those within the MSPAA network will have access to this premier series of educational summits so that they may attend and gain actionable insights and practical knowledge to enhance their cyber security strategies and ensure robust protection against cyber threats.

In an effort to educate senior executives and business leaders across the US about the latest cyber threat landscape, equipping them with best practices to combat cybercrime.”

Megan Hutton - Marketing Director

In this collaborative endeavor, the MSPAA and Cyber Security Summit strive to cultivate a spirit of collaboration among cybersecurity professionals, industry influencers, and technology enthusiasts. The partnership will offer informative panel discussions, enlightening keynote speeches, and interactive demonstrations facilitated by esteemed experts in the field of cyber security. Attendees will have the valuable opportunity to connect with peers who share similar responsibilities, exchange experiences and ideas, and glean invaluable insights from prominent figures in the industry.

"The Official Cyber Security Summit is excited to partner with MSPAA in an effort to educate senior executives and business leaders across the US about the latest cyber threat landscape, equipping them with best practices to combat cybercrime & delivering access to the latest cutting-edge solutions to help avoid their enterprise from becoming the next victim of a cyber-attack. Through this partnership, we are pleased to extend discounted admission rates to MSPAA members and its greater network. This strategic alliance will also help both parties further establish themselves within this important segment of the cyber security marketplace.", says Megan Hutton the Marketing Director for Cyber Security Summit.
